

CTL for Students

Teaching Fellows

- Supports 9 departments.
- Helps to create a supportive, inclusive educational environment.
 - Anthropology/Sociology
 - Biology
 - Chemistry
 - Economics
 - Geoscience
 - Philosophy
 - Physics
 - Psychology
 - Spanish

Weekly Learning Tips for First Year Students

- Designed to provide HWS first-years with study and learning strategies as they embark on a new academic journey at HWS.
- Can be found on the CTL Blackboard site and are emailed weekly to First Year students.

Study Mentors

- Help with organization and study skills through the use of the CTL Big Picture, weekly study schedules and other time management tools.

Make an appointment through TutorTrac via the CTL website.

Writing Colleagues

- Can help students trust what they already know and augment their abilities as they work through the writing process.

Make an appointment in advance on TutorTrac via the CTL website.

Oral Communications Program

- Prep for presentations the smart way – come in and get videotaped or practice in front of trained staff and then receive the feedback you need to succeed.

Contact Ruth Shields at shields@hws.edu

Honors Readers College

- Honors and MAT students from across all disciplines come together to support and enjoy each other's projects, and to gain insight from one another's difficulties and successes.

If you're interested, email Susan Hess, shess@hws.edu

Senior Symposium

- Culminate your academic career at HWS by presenting your independent project, scholarly research, or intellectual passion.

For more information go to http://www.hws.edu/academics/ctl/senior_symposium.aspx

Disability Services

- For more information go to our webpage at http://www.hws.edu/studentlife/stuaffairs_disabilities.aspx, or stop by the CTL office to make an appointment with David Silver.

Contact David Silver at silver@hws.edu

Group Study Tables

- Afternoon or evening study tables provide tutoring in a small group setting for specific class sections once faculty support is gained.

Contact Sam Vann for more information, vann@hws.edu

Rosensweig Learning Commons located on the second floor of the library
Stop by or call x3351 for appointments with staff
Open Monday through Friday 9am to 5pm
<http://www.hws.edu/academics/ctl/index.aspx>