Title: Announcement: Endpoint Antivirus Message

Description: IT Services recently renewed the Colleges’ Endpoint Antivirus software and it is causing some computers to generate an error message (See image below). If this is the case with your machine, you do not need to do anything at this time, including contacting the vendor. IT Services is working through updating the licenses remotely.

If you have any questions or would like your computer updated immediately, please contact the Help Desk at helpdesk@hws.edu.
