The ETA must be completed, signed, and returned to NYSHESC to apply for TAP.

NYSHESC determines the applicant’s eligibility and mails an award certificate directly to the applicant, indicating the amount of the grant. The applicant presents the institutional copy of the certificate at the time of payment of tuition. Colleges may defer payment on the basis of receipt of the award certificate.

Selection of Recipients and Allocation of Awards: The Tuition Assistance Program is an entitlement program. There is neither a qualifying examination nor a limited number of awards. The applicant must: 1) be a New York State resident and a U.S. citizen or permanent resident alien; 2) be enrolled full-time and matriculated at an approved New York State postsecondary institution; 3) have, if dependent, a family net taxable income below $80,001, or if independent and single with no tax dependents, a net taxable income below $10,000; and 4) be charged a tuition of at least $200 per year.

Borrowers frequently can choose between interest rate options and may be able to defer principal payments while the student is enrolled. Repayment periods range from four to 20 years, depending on amount borrowed. Further information is available from various lenders and from the Colleges' Office of Financial Aid.

The interest rate will be a weighted average of the interest rates of the loans to be consolidated, but not to be less than nine percent. This program will most benefit students who incur high-interest graduate and professional school loans.
APPENDIX A

POLICIES AND PROCEDURES FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

MISSION STATEMENT
The Center for Teaching and Learning seeks to provide all students full access to all educational programs, activities, and facilities as well as offer students the opportunity to achieve to their full academic potential. In seeking to meet these commitments, we recognize that students differ in their needs and learning styles. The Center for Teaching and Learning is committed to ensuring equitable participation in all programs and activities of the Colleges.

GOALS
• Provide appropriate and reasonable accommodations and support services to students with disabilities
• Encourage and assist students to develop greater independence
• Increase faculty and professional staff understanding of the rights and needs of students with disabilities
• Provide an environment that is welcoming and safe to students with disabilities
• Assist the Colleges to comply with Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (ADA)

RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES
Students
Students with disabilities are entitled to reasonable accommodations according to Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. These federal laws protect students from discrimination based on actual or perceived disability. They are also entitled to full access to all programs and activities of the Colleges if they are otherwise qualified to participate.

In order to receive accommodations, students are expected to formally self-disclose in writing or in person their disability to the disability specialist of the Center for Teaching and Learning, to provide appropriate documentation of their disability, and to follow established procedures for obtaining reasonable accommodations and services. Documentation guidelines are available from the disability specialist at the Center. Finally, students with disabilities are expected to comply fully with the academic standards as well as the codes of conduct established by the Colleges.

The Colleges
In order to provide the most reasonable and appropriate accommodations, the Colleges have the right to review all documentation establishing a student’s disability status and accommodation needs. When all documentation is found to support the disability status and requested accommodation(s), it is the responsibility of the Colleges to make every effort to provide accommodations, which are reasonable and will not pose an undue financial or administrative burden on the Colleges.

The Colleges have the right to decline any accommodation request that is not sufficiently supported by documentation or which would fundamentally alter a degree requirement, program, course, or activity. In other words, it is essential that the documentation clearly demonstrates a reasonable link between the specified accommodation(s) and the functional limitation exhibited by the student, and that accommodations do not substantially alter the core objectives of degree requirements, programs, courses, activities, or standards established by the faculty.
POLICIES AND PROCEDURES FOR SERVICES

Application for Services
Students are not obligated to self-disclose a disability. However, self-disclosure is required when the student anticipates a need for accommodations or services relating to a disability. When students anticipate such needs, they must identify themselves to the disability specialist of the Center for Teaching and Learning, register for services, and provide written documentation in a timely manner. A letter, phone call, or personal interview will initiate the registration process. This form may be used as a means of self-disclosing a disability and stating expected accommodations before reaching campus. Students completing the Self Disclosure Form will be contacted by the disability specialist at the beginning of the fall semester to initiate the review process.

Students not choosing this means of self-disclosure must initiate the process themselves in person or in writing to the disability specialist. A minimum of two weeks is required for processing any new request for accommodations or services. If a student chooses not to self-disclose a disability, retroactive accommodations cannot be made. However, if the student feels there is strong justification for a retroactive accommodation, she or he may make a formal request in writing to the disability specialist of CTL, appropriate dean, or the faculty Committee on Standards.

Disability Documentation
Written documentation must be provided by a qualified professional with training and experience relevant to the diagnosed disability. In order to receive accommodations and specialized services, the documentation must establish that the person has an impairment that substantially limits one or more major life activities such as walking, seeing, hearing, learning, working, and performing manual tasks. The documentation should be submitted under the professional’s letterhead and include the following:
- Student’s name;
- Date of evaluation and last contact;
- Specific diagnosis and history.

Undifferentiated diagnoses of individual learning styles, learning differences, academic problems, and test anxiety, for example, in and of themselves do not constitute a learning disability;
- Nature of the impairment including a description of current functional limitations within the academic setting;
- Degree of severity of impairment;
- Statement of diagnostic criteria and/or tests used to determine impairment including a summary as well as specific test scores;
- A description of most recent accommodations, services, treatment, medication, assistive devices prescribed;
- Recommended academic accommodations must be supported by evaluation or test findings;
- Where appropriate, a statement of the expected course or relative stability of the disability;
- Documentation that is recent (less than five years old) is required.

Note that these are general guidelines and that specific requirements for each type of disability can be accessed on the CTL Web site.

Although many disabilities are acknowledged to be life-long, functional limitations can vary over time; hence currency of testing is essential.

Related Information
An Individualized Education Plan (IEP) or a 504 Plan summary is not automatically sufficient to determine reasonable accommodations. If either of these documents includes test results or other professional findings that establish a basis for services or accommodations, they may be submitted as professional documentation.

Note: Individualized Education Plans and 504 Plans are procedural documents covering children ages 3-21. They are documents that summarize the needs and services deemed essential to their students and limited to their K-12 setting. These students are guaranteed a free and appropriate public education until they graduate from high school or reach the age of 21. Colleges and universities, on the other hand, are obligated to abide by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), in particular, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973. Both of these are civil rights laws which prohibit discrimination based on disability. The provision of services and accommodations are ways in which the Colleges can assure equal access to a college education to students with disabilities.

Colleges and universities are not required to provide a free and appropriate public education. Educational plans and special education services are not mandated.

ACCOMMODATIONS AND SERVICES

In order to receive accommodations and special services, it is the responsibility of the student to voluntarily self-disclose his or her disability and then to provide documentation that is recent. Likewise, it is the responsibility of the Colleges to review all relevant documentation and discuss with the student the range of possibilities for accommodations and/or services. Recognizing that disabilities vary widely in their impact on the academic life of a student, the determination of reasonable accommodations is achieved on an individualized basis. Prior history of an accommodation is not, in and of itself, sufficient to establish the need for the provision of an accommodation. Providing unbiased and reasonable access to all programs and activities of the Colleges is the purpose of accommodations. Ultimate responsibility for determining reasonable accommodations and services lies with the Colleges.

Once accommodations are determined for students, each semester students will be notified to pick up an accommodation letter. The student will then present the letter to professors from whom the student seeks accommodations. The student is expected to discuss with each professor the details about how accommodations will be handled for each course. The student will then ask the professor to sign the letter, and when all signatures are obtained, the letter will be returned to CTL. No accommodations are provided until the signed letter is returned. The student must also notify CTL of examination dates so that the Center will be prepared to meet the student’s needs.

Typical Accommodations (granted depending on need):

- extended time for all timed examinations;
- alternative site for examinations;
- use of word processor for written examinations;
- reader for examinations;
- Books on tape
- permission to tape record lectures;
- note takers;
- assistive technology.
The following accommodations will be considered, provided there is no fundamental alteration to a program or a degree and when supportive evidence is furnished. These accommodations are not typical:

- reduced course load;
- course substitutions or waivers.

An accommodation will not be authorized under the following conditions:

- when it is not supported by clear, supportive documentary evidence;
- when it may require a substantial alteration to a fundamental element of the curriculum or academic program;
- when it may require a substantial alteration to a co-curricular or extra-curricular activity or poses a direct threat to the health or safety of others;
- when it poses an undue financial or administrative burden to the Colleges;
- when it falls under the definition of a personal service.

CONFIDENTIALITY

The Americans with Disabilities Act and the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) have established guidelines for confidentiality of all disability-related information. All information provided by the student will be treated as highly confidential, maintained in a separate, secure file with limited access, and only shared when there is a compelling need to know. Need-to-know is specified as the following: when a school official—administrator, supervisor, faculty, or support staff—is expected to take a specific action on the student’s behalf.

When a student with a disability requests and is approved for an accommodation or service, the appropriate person will be notified. Information identifying the specific disability is not shared, only that appropriate documentation has been received, and that the accommodation is necessary to fulfill the Colleges’ obligation to provide equal access under ADA and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act.

The Right to Review a File
A student has the right to inspect his or her file held at the Center for Teaching and Learning (CTL). Students must submit a request in writing to the disability specialist of CTL. The specialist will notify the student of the time and place for this review within one week.

ACCOMMODATION DISPUTES AND ADA GRIEVANCE PROCEDURE

Informal Dispute Resolution Process
Students may appeal a decision regarding an accommodation or service. This appeal must be communicated to the disability specialist of the Center for Teaching and Learning within 14 days of the incident. A meeting will be arranged within seven days after notification including the student, the disability specialist of CTL and, when relevant, appropriate faculty and/or administrator to discuss the dispute. During the appeal process, the existing accommodations will continue to be provided. Mutual consent will close the dispute process. If the dispute cannot be resolved in a manner agreeable to all parties, a formal grievance may be filed.

Title VII and IX Non-Discrimination Policy and Grievance Procedure
A formal grievance may be initiated following the Title VII and IX Non-Discrimination Policy and Grievance Procedure as published in the Handbook of Community Standards. The informal resolution process is not a prerequisite to the filing of a formal complaint.
