Nancy Ghertner lives in Sodus, and formerly taught film and video at the Rochester Institute of Technology. She recently completed her documentary, “After I Pick the Fruit”, covering the lives of five female migrant workers in upstate New York over the last 10 years. She will be discussing each woman’s journey as a mother and migrant worker as well as how she built relationships of trust with them.

Wednesday, February 22, 2012 5 pm
Intercultural Affairs
288 Pulteney Street