HOBART AND WILLIAM SMITH COLLEGES

THE SENIOR SYMPOSIUM

2015

Throughout this seventh annual day of presentations by Hobart and William Smith seniors and Masters of Arts in Teaching students, we will honor the best traditions of a liberal arts education: taking academics outside the classroom, giving individual academic passions a broad audience, and exchanging ideas across the HWS community. As you will see, many Senior Symposium panels connect students' work across disciplines, sites, and insights in a way that highlights the HWS commitment to interdisciplinary study.

We invite you to engage today with our panels of students in this exciting synthesis of their college work. Come explore connections between music preferences, eating behaviors, and government deficits ("When Is Loss Not Failure?" panel at 11:15 a.m.); among faith, concussions, and introverted tendencies ("The Journey" panel at 3 p.m.); or between racism, the American Dream, and social justice ("Removing Rose-Colored Glasses" panel at 4:05 p.m.)
