Castle Creek has been influenced by urban development and stormwater runoff for over 200 years. Portions of Castle Creek have been planked, bridged, or tunneled since as early as 1884 according to historic Sanborn maps.